Electronic payment makes your life easier

If you already have an internet banking account, you may also use "Electronic Bill Presentment and Payment" ("EBPP") to make premium payment online. You can activate this service simply by logging onto your internet banking account, choosing EBPP service and registering relevant insurance policy information. You may receive bill notifications and payment reminders from certain banks. It enables you to view and pay the bill anytime, anywhere. You can also make scheduled bill payments and be worry-free of overdue payment.

EBPP service is jointly developed by Hong Kong Monetary Authority and the banking industry and available with most local banks offering internet banking accounts. In addition to Hong Kong Dollar, EBPP also enables payments in Renminbi and US Dollar and is completely free of charge. BOC Life has taken one step ahead being the first life insurer to usher in this service.
