SECTOR ALLOCATION^{}

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

The BOCHK Japan Equity Fund seeks to provide investors with long-term capital growth through investing primarily (at least 70% of its non-cash assets) in listed equities and equity related securities of companies whose activities are closely related to the economic development and growth of the Japan economy. Such equities and equity related securities may be listed on various stock exchanges in Japan, the United States, London or Singapore.

MANAGER'S COMMENT^{##}

- Depreciating Yen continued to be the focus of Japan. Contradictory monetary policies between BoJ and global central banks would likely persist implying continuous Yen weakness.
- The government announced a new economic package mainly to address impact of inflation, with actions to reduce household utility bills being a major pillar.
- Japan equity market rebounded in October, in response to rallying US stocks and better investment sentiment. Prospects for a slowdown in the pace of US rate hikes improved macro visibility slightly.
- With Japan border reopened, investors would focus on domestic consumption related names in the near term. Japan equity market would likely continue to be volatile with Yen movement, reporting seasons, and global monetary tightening.
